

The flag stands where the stone lay

In the south town lies a book

A book not to be took

Where Britain survives

Knowledge thrives

For a second book

To be took

Neither gun nor a knife

can bring hope to a life